

Dear Tom:

I just thought you would be pleased to see (in black and white, sadly) the cover of your forthcoming booklet, which goes to the printers either today or early next week.

Your name appears in green, the title in pink, the sub-title in green, the cpf pamphlet line in pink, the rest in black. We think it will be quite striking. The cost per copy, by the way, will be 25¢, which seems reasonable.

We are setting a different type face for initials, something along the lines of the face Corita used on the cover. The initials will be run in green.

The whole thing seems to be shaping up beautifully. I hope you will be pleased.

Very grateful for your last letter. I am sure Gary will be too.

The letter head, by the way, is of Linda's design. If you want some, she says she can run it off for you.

Much love,

Jim
