Dear Tom:

First of all, thanks from all of us here for your Katzenbach letter and the three page statement on civilian war victims. We expect to use an extract from the letter in the BROTHERS REPORT newsletter, the first issue of which I've been preparing and which should be out shortly--copy is already off to the type-setter.

I suspect my last letter, and Dorothy's, might have been quite a jolt, which makes me feel rather apologetic, to say the least. Yet both Dorothy and I share a deep and abiding respect for your view of things.

A number of letters on this complex situation have been received. Two of the letters I found quite stirring. It is easy to forget the profound generosity of spirit so many possess. I will enclose xerox copies of the letters from Dan Berrigan and Jim Douglass, perhaps one or two others if I can find them.

It has been snowing without let^{up} all day. Looks like the Urals in January. Since seeing Doctor Zhizago, can't get Russian winters out of my mind.

As usual, I must keep this brief if I am ever to get home.

Much love,

Jim
